

Closure of Llantrisant Road

Last Updated Thursday, 15 August 2019 19:19

- From July 22, for three weeks, 24 hours/day, the A4119 will be closed to through traffic from Radyr to Groesfaen.
- Cyclists and pedestrians will be able to get through.
- All A4119 traffic coming out of Cardiff will be diverted at Radyr onto Heol Isaf.
- At the RCT end all traffic for Cardiff will be diverted to the M4.
- Residents living off the A4119 will be able to get to their roads from either of these points but the big goal is to stop all through traffic.
- The official diversion route will be the A48.
- Advance warning signs will go up 2 weeks before July 22.
